REVIEW:

At first look you'll probably think, Romeo and Juliet, great, another tragedy...no thanks. BUT HOLD ON! Just because it sounds like an impossible love doesn't mean it's going to end the same. Two teens are being singled out because of their close friendship and the fact that they come from different races. But they aren't going to back down without a fight. It's a good love story that is set in modern times with a good ending....but without Leonardo DiCaprio!
